To Whom It May Concern:

As a student in my journalism class at Point Park University, Faith Cotter has exhibited a strong sense of curiosity, a commitment to the craft and an eagerness for learning. I am writing to recommend her for an internship with your organization.

Students in the Point Park News Service class are encouraged to go out into Pittsburgh and find their own stories. Faith showed a ready ability to do this, quickly identifying an interesting story and doing the reporting needed to tell it. She also is a strong writer and quickly responds to constructive criticism.

I find Faith to be a pleasure to work with. She has a keen interest in journalism and an appreciation for what reporters can accomplish by uncovering facts and writing with meaningful words. I believe she would contribute to any newsroom in a positive way.

If I can provide additional insights or answer any specific questions, please do not hesitate to reach me at any of my contacts below.

All best,

Andrew Conte
